Under the GDPR your rights are enhanced in relation to how we use your information. Your rights include:

- A Right of Access to your personal data
Find out if we have and how we use your information, access your information and receive copies of your information. To have inaccurate information corrected and updated.
- A Right to Object to certain processing
Object to particular use of your personal data for our legitimate business.
- A Right to Restriction of processing / Right to Erasure
To have information deleted or our use of your data restricted, or to withdraw consent at any time where processing is based on consent.

- Right to Data Portability

Obtain a transferable copy of information we hold to transfer to another employer or body.

For the purposes of this statement, it is noted that:

- Muiriosa Foundation does not partake in any automated processing or analytics of your personal or sensitive information. Muiriosa Foundation's website contains details on Cookie Settings.
- Muiriosa Foundation does not currently operate closed circuit television systems (CCTV) on our premises.

SECTION A

Information for Families of Service Users

1. What type of information may be held about you?

- We may hold data to identify you, your name, address, contact details and your relationship to the person to whom we supply supports and services.
- We may hold information about your legal relationship to the person to whom we supply supports and services.
- We may hold information about your personal circumstances, marital status, family and living arrangements.
- We may hold any information you may have supplied to us when your family member joined our services.
- We may hold information about your medical conditions.
- We may hold any information about you provided by other HSE, medical professionals, social workers, etc.
- We may hold information which you have consented to us having/using.

2. When do we collect your information?

This information is gathered as you or health professionals give us, when someone connected to you joins our services.

3. Why is it necessary to collect this information?

Your data is processed whereby:

- You have agreed to us using your data in a specific way and to which you can withdraw consent at any time.
- It is necessary to contact you in case of an emergency.
- It is necessary in relation to the provision of our services and supports to your family member.
